

MAVT has recently updated our website with a new layout.

With this update all current or past members must setup a new login username/email and password the first time you login. Any login information from our old website will not work.

To setup your information – go to www.mavt.net

Go to the Members Only tab on the far right and select LOGIN

From the login screen – select Register

The screenshot shows a 'Log In' form with the following elements:

- Header: Log In
- Input field: Username or Email Address
- Input field: Password
- Checkbox: Remember Me
- Button: Log In
- Link: Register (highlighted with a red box and a red arrow pointing to it from the right)
- Link: Lost your password?

You will be prompted to enter a username and email (you must enter both)

The screenshot shows a 'Register' form with the following elements and annotations:

- Header: Register
- Input field: Username (containing 'fuzzybunny'). A red box contains the text: 'Your username can be anything that you want to use when you login at our website.' A red arrow points from this box to the Username label.
- Input field: Email (containing 'fuzzybunny@abc.123'). A blue box contains the text: 'Enter the email address that is associate with your MAVT membership'. A blue arrow points from this box to the Email label.
- Text: Registration confirmation will be emailed to you.
- Button: Register (highlighted with a green box). A green box contains the text: 'The press Register'. A green arrow points from this box to the Register button.
- Link: Log in
- Link: Lost your password?

You will then receive an email message from wordpress labeled your username and password information.

It will indicate what your username is and include a link to set your password.
